In our journey through life, we collect many possessions and we meet other people daily. Lord, today you remind us that the way we treat, meet and greet others and the way we use our worldly goods should be a mark of our Christian faith. Help us to bring you into all our relationships, to act as you would have acted, to challenge as you would have challenged and to love as you would have loved. May we be generous with our time and our resources in whatever way we can and do so without counting the cost.
